ABOUT THE EVENT

While we've all worked to adapt to the so-called 'new normal', a combination of the sudden change and environmental pressures have undeniably taken a toll and the full impact on workplace mental health is yet to be seen. Whether it's coming to grips with returning to the office, still working remotely or in dispersed, digital teams or dealing with the loss of colleagues and friends all these factors are affecting our mental health.

Even if you feel you've adjusted to the shortterm effects, we now find ourselves facing the long-term impacts of this change. As we continue to adapt to disruptions, feelings of stress and anxiety continue to rise, and it has never been more critical that you possess the psychological skills to effectively manage your mental health and well-being.

Psychologist and workplace mental health expert Melissa Harries has supported the development of psychologically safe workplaces and mentally healthy teams across all industries. Melissa will equip you with the skills and knowledge to better understand and manage your own mental health and wellbeing, and also to help support those around you. Deepen your understanding of anxiety, stress, and depression, and acquire skills to boost your resilience and optimise performance during times of disruption.

YOUR FACILITATOR

Melissa's mission is to enable organisations and individuals to develop the skills to enhance mental health and wellbeing. She encourages a proactive and effective response to any and all of life's demands, regardless of how challenging they may be.
