ABOUT THE EVENT

Recent updates to ISO 45001 provide a framework to improve employee safety, reduce workplace risks and create a shared standard of safety. But a robust and effective Safety Management System is about more than just meeting a standard, it's about protecting your people and your business, and the cost of missing the mark can be high. You need to understand how ISO 45001 applies to your business and ensure you are compliant, so you can tackle the real world complexities and lead a culture of safety.

This interactive workshop has been designed to unpack ISO 45001, ensure your Safety Management Systems are compliant, and to help you to embed best practice in your organisation. Explore what the changes really mean for your business, discuss insights and strategies to lead this change, develop appropriate means of monitoring success, and create engagement at all levels of the organisation.

The two days will work through the process logically, breaking apart each step and giving you the opportunity to explore your own organisation's problems and develop practical solutions to accelerate the rollout.

WHO WILL ATTEND?

Officers, Advisers, Managers and Senior Leaders responsible for:

- ▶ Safety Management Systems
- ▶ Workplace Health and Safety
- ▶ Occupational Health and Safety
- ▶ Risk and Compliance

Also relevant for:

- ▶ Site Superintendents
- ▶ Operations / Site Managers
- ▶ Injury Management Specialists

YOUR FACILITATOR

Gary is CEO of Safety Action Pty Ltd. and has over 25 years experience in managing safety and risk management programs. Gary's key specialties include, safety culture & leadership, risk assessments and independent reviews.
